With the advent of [redacted] into the CORONA program and the intermixing of documentation by [redacted] with classified documents with the unclassified documents originated or prepared for the CIA portion of the program, the original security maintained under the CIA document control system gave way to the imprinting of "SECRET" and "TOP SECRET" and standardized procedures for classification and document control per Air Force usage. The LMSC people and some CIA assigned personnel at the AP facility were opposed to this change and the CIA Security Officer who tried to put the new system to work ran into difficulties.
